Welcome to our Home!

Bobby McKey's, the Washington DC area's first and only dueling piano bar, opened its doors in November 2008. As a locally owned and operated establishment, we strive to provide the Washington area residents and visitors a unique, energetic and highly interactive dueling piano show that showcases the talents of our players. Most importantly we are a place where you can leave your cares at the door, have fun, and become part of the show! We are the place "Where feeling good is easy." Let us prove it.

Dueling pianos started over 50 years ago in New Orleans at Pat O'Brien's bar on Bourbon Street.

Mercedes and Connie Kay began this cult phenomenon by incorporating a pair of upright pianos positioned perpendicular to each other. Dueling pianos were originally designed to be classical by nature, but before long, rock-n-roll took the practice in a different direction. Rock-n-roll made the show so much more fun that audience members couldn't help but to begin singing along. This interactive concept is a staple of the dueling piano experience today that can be enjoyed at Bobby McKey's.
